

The Hall Leadership Project

"I never wanted to be in no gang shooting at people; and having people shoot at me and my family. I just wanted to chill with my friends"

-Christopher, 16 years old, Brooklyn New York Resident

TARGET PROBLEM: too many kids join gangs

RISK FACTOR: Middle school age kids who aren't educated about gangs

TARGET OF PROGRAM: Student knowledge of gang's influence on behavior and thoughts

EXPECTED OUTCOMES: Youth will show increased awareness of how gangs can influence behavior-thoughts-feelings and develop more positive attitudes towards avoiding gang involvement

What is the Hall Leadership Project?

- The Hall Leadership Project (HLP) is a school-based gang enrollment prevention workshop for school aged teens (12-18) living in or attending schools in areas with high gang related issues.
- Teens will have to complete an intake survey designed to test their knowledge of gangs before starting the class.
- The HLP is an 8-week curriculum, to take place at the school site, one-hour each week.

Who is the Program For?

- This program is ideal for elementary, middle school and some high schools settings that are dealing with issues related to gang presence such as but not limited to, violence, drugs, and weapon possession.
- This also pertains to schools that will promote students into a new school setting that is dealing with similar gang related issues.
Please Note: This program is best when used to prevent teens from entering gangs rather than pulling members from their respective gangs.
- The HLP uses sociological findings along with years of front-line experience working in the justice system, and, most importantly, experience within the New York State juvenile and adult detention systems.
